

ARIZONA SEEKS

DATA ON GAME

PHOENIX, Feb. 2.—Arizona hunters now have a chance to suggest desired revisions in the game laws of the state. State game warden Joe Prochaska today sent to gun clubs and rifle clubs in all parts of the state a letter asking for any suggestions regarding game seasons and bag limits. The game warden said he sought a free expression of opinion in contemplation of possible changes in the game laws.

The state game warden also said the United States biological survey had promised to send two trappers for duty in the Sit Greaves National forest to protect the state's herd of elk. Mountain lions and other predatory animals were reported menacing the young elk.

Warden Prochaska requested that federal trappers be sent after he had made a visit to the elk preserve and had seen the need for protective measures.

CARELESSLY FAIL TO RECORD MANY
BIRTHS IN STATE

Despite the fact that 204 babies were registered in the state records being born during last December in Maricopa county alone, the board is sure that many babies were never registered.

In December, 1919, 161 babies born in the city of Phoenix were registered at the state board of health. Fifty-one of them were boys and 46 girls. The sex of four is not mentioned in the records.

"BELL HOPS" MUST PAY

INCOME TAX UPON TIPS
IS U. S. REVENUE RULING

Elevator boys, bell hops and those who ply similar professions are not the only ones depending upon tips for a part of their income. Uncle Sam has now intruded upon their territory and is depending upon tips for part of his revenue, and demands a share of most tips. The tipper, however, does not have to worry about paying his share as Uncle Sam will see that the receivers of the tip give him his share.

THOUSAND MARK PASSED

BY STATE UNIVERSITY

TUCSON, Feb. 2.—With the registration of John M. Armstrong yesterday the university of Arizona passed the 1000 mark. This marks a new era in the history of the institution as never before have more than 700 resident students been registered in any one year. About 50 or 60 more are expected during the first few days of next week, and it would not be surprising if the total registrations should exceed 1100 by the end of the term. This figure of 1001 does not include correspondence students, or farmers' and housekeepers' week attendants. With them the total registration for the year, counting summer session, will be in excess of 1700.

The unprecedented registration at the university this year has made the housing problem an acute one. With the influx of new students for the new semester accommodations will have to be found in the homes of citizens around the campus.

FLU ON INCREASE IN ARIZONA

SAYS BOARD OF HEALTH

PHOENIX, Feb. 2.—Influenza is on the increase in Arizona since the first of the year, according to the state board of health. There were 10 deaths from influenza reported in December. These were in Maricopa and Santa Cruz counties. At the same time there were 38 deaths from pneumonia, divided among 19 counties, and there is a possibility that some of these deaths were the result of influenza.

U. S. Surgeon General Rupert Blue has already called on the various state boards of health of the country to mobilize the medical fraternity in an attempt to restrain the infection in Arizona the matter has been taken up with all county health officers. Their reports develop that influenza exists in a number of cities, although Santa Cruz county reports no cases known at the present time.

"Masks, serums and the closing of places of amusement, have all been tried," says the state board of health. "Scientists still question the practical value of any of these expedients." There remains the careful quarantining of known cases and the control of the possible carrier. The value of this is unquestioned.

"Every individual can also protect himself to an extent. He should live simply; be in the open as much as possible; avoid the careless spitter and cougher; keep the hands clean and not run risks of catching cold."

OLD TIMERS REVEL IN

MEMORIES OF THE PAST

Tombstone presents an appearance similar to the days when she held first place among the cities of the southwest, as the greatest mining camp.

Several of the old timers who were prominent figures on the streets of the historic city, are today roaming over the scenes of "the good old days." As they stroll past the Crystal theater, where once was housed the biggest gambling hall and saloon in the southwest, The Crystal Palace, it can be plainly detected that their minds dwell temporarily in the days gone by. Peeking into the old Bird Cage theater which stands today as it did twenty-five or thirty years ago; the stage where the best the Orpheum circuit of that time could offer, was produced, is still as it used to be, when the beauties of the southwest flitted about ushering the foaming schooners to the gold slinging congregation that gathered to spend the night in hilarious revelry; the past is brought vividly to their minds, the past of a wide-open, whisky-flushed, two killings a day western mining camp.

They walked past the doors of the famous old thirst emporiums, but the clinking of glasses and the click of poker chips is no more; only the crack of pool balls falls upon their ears as they saunter on toward a soft drink establishment, there to imbibe—grape juice.

NOGALITOS YAQUIS ACCUSED

OF KILLING FEDERAL TROOPS

NOGALES, Feb. 2.—Regarding the recent Yaqui raid at Santa Barbara, La Nacion, a paper published in Nogales, Sonora, prints the following:

"The party of Yaquis that attacked the federal troops near Santa Barbara Sunday was composed of Yaquis that work in Nogalitos, Arizona. Last Saturday they had a preliminary talk at Nogalitos, Arizona and that same night crossed the line with a contraband of arms and ammunition which was to be delivered to a party of Yaquis coming from the south. The smugglers are again back and working in Nogalitos, Arizona, as though nothing had happened. Who sells arms and ammunition to the Yaquis, who permits the smuggling of arms? And we ask who is responsible for what happened near Santa Barbara? It occurs to us that Senator Fall should make some investigation in this case and render a report to the American senate."

GETS LAND UNDER

OLD DE BACA GRANT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Title to the Sonora land grant in Arizona a valuable tract included in the Maria Cabeza grant from the United States government, was awarded to the Ely Real Estate and Investment company by the United States circuit court of appeals here today. This decision reversed the judgment of the lower court where Cornelius C. Watts and Hahney C. Davis, de Baca heirs had won from the real estate company a suit to quiet title. The higher court held that the real estate company's claim based on a land grant of the Mexican government to Leon Herreros and recognized in a treaty between Mexico and the United States in 1853 was valid.

SHOWS PROSPERITY

IN STATE BUSINESS

Betts of the state corporation commission, the corporation department of the commission indicating a gain of approximately 33 1-3 per cent in the January receipts as compared with those of December, the period being in the middle of the fiscal year. The January receipts were $4,254.60, and those of December amounted to $3,204.60.

DESERTER RETURNED

UNDER GUARD

D. O'Brien, chief mate and Harry Wilson, machinist's mate of the Aetolian section of the Navy arrived in Tombstone yesterday from naval air station at San Diego, Calif. under orders of Lieut. Commander Murray of the air station to bring back Joe Whitney, a deserter from the navy, also wanted for the theft of an automobile from Pasadena, Calif. From information gained from the naval guards by Sheriff McDonald it appears that Whitney is a much wanted prisoner. Not only is he wanted for deserting the navy, but at the time of desertion he was a prisoner serving sentence. Besides the charge of stealing the automobile will be against his credit. Whitney was captured through the system instituted on January 1st by Sheriff McDonald to keep a check on all stolen automobiles, also all foreign machines passing through the county. Deputy Boucher, saw the foreign machine in Douglas several weeks ago, gave chase and overtook Whitney near the New Mexico line. When he was brought to the county jail, the records showed the machine to be a stolen one, and Whitney signified his willingness to return to California to face the charge of theft. But the finger prints taken by the sheriff again proved the worth of the system, and word came back that Whitney was wanted as a naval deserter also, with the result that he will now face three serious charges on his return to California.

RESENTS HAVING HAIR

COMBED WITH HOOF OF

BULL; HUBBY JAILED

PHOENIX, Feb. 4.—Whatever luck may be said to be invested in a rabbit's foot, this apparent has nothing to do with a bull's foot, according to Santiago Amabisco. Santiago ought to know. He was arrested by Deputy Jay Jones at Agua Caliente this morning on the complaint of his wife, who alleges that "Santy" beat her severely over the head with a club consisting of the cloven hoof and foreleg of a bovine creature.

Although Mrs. Amabisco's story is supported by the evidence, a bull's foot now on exhibition at the sheriff's office, strangely enough there is another half to the affair. The mare to the foreleg is there also, and with it Amabisco alleges that his wife first opened up the quarrel by an attack upon him. Amabisco is in custody, as his wife beat him to the county attorney's office and got out a warrant.
